Just a little bit more than an hour from Venice, there is a land, kissed by beauty, that keeps a thousand and one souls, a land that often whispers but that can leave you speechless.

It's the land of the Dolomites, that were recognized World Heritage by UNESCO, but it's also a land of art and history, it's a land of good food and handicraft. It's a land of sport and nature, of folklore and research. It's a land of cultural events and views that touch your soul. It's the land of the vertical dolomite, of the sides of the Pale Mountains and of the gentle hills of the Valbelluna. It's the land of the small lakes that are framed high in the mountains and of the waterfalls of the spring melting, the land of the peaceful flowing of the Piave river and of the soft woods of the Cansiglio. It's a land able to be wild, unconquered and adventurous or comforting in its tale of millennial stories, kept by walls of medieval towns or by palaces of the delightful times of the Republic of Venice.

Belluno is one of the thousand souls and it's in this extraordinary variety of sceneries that you can find the right emotion where your event is framed by. From a conference room at 3000 metres on the Marmolada, to the Palacongressi (Palace of Conferences) in the very heart of Cortina, to the historical halls of a noble palace in Belluno or Feltre, the province of Belluno offers the opportunity to custom-make the perfect mixture for every type of conference meeting. A network of structures and professionals at your disposal to identify the most appropriate location, according to the type of meeting you wish to create: from the multiplex conference to the altitude team building, from the agents' meeting to the meeting for a new product launch, from the business meal to the seminar, to the training meetings, to the updating.

Moreover, the optional offer, that you can use to complete your MICE meeting, is very rich: whatever is the season you choose to see this amazing province, you'll certainly give your guests the unique pleasure of an emotion that is impossible to have elsewhere. From the adrenaline-filled entertainments to the group activities, to the joy for the palate, passing through cities and art paths, the province of Belluno puts the exclusive experience of the Dolomites at your disposal.

The result will be a real unique opportunity: you'll choose whether it will be made by adventure or extra luxury relax. We will listen to your project and we'll help you to create the perfect solution, step by step, because we know our territory and how to show its magnificence in the best way. Belluno has thousand of souls and we'll help you find the right one to fell head over hills in love with it.

The place is a versatile and modern centre, designed for the most different conference requirements and immersed in the charm of ancient traditions. Inside, the modern equipped rooms coexists next to the museum spaces: the place hosts also the ancient Museo delle Regole (Museum of the Rules), the centre of naturalistic and historical studies, and the re-enactments of the Great War.

The multi-purpose room is a wide inclined space, that can be transformed to be suitable for any requirement: from conference room to cinema, theatre, concert hall. It's provided with technical spaces for shows and with a translation room, while the two side galleries are used as an operational area for translators, journalists and for the necessary technical structures.

The flexibility of the structure allows to obtain three smaller rooms for conventions and parallel sessions. The multifunctional space at the entrance can be used as registration area and wardrobe. It's also provided with a wide area with a bar and an exposition area with glass objects for models and educational materials. At the upper floor the 200 square metres room can be divided in meeting rooms with 40 and 20 seats and press room. Lastly, a wide area is dedicated to services destined to theatre and music activities and includes stores, dressing rooms for artists and offices.

HISTORICAL HALLS

An extraordinary heritage of historical architectures that are placidly nestled in wonderful villages or completely surrounded by nature. Palaces that tell the splendours of the times of the Republic of Venice and even older castles. Museums, arisen during centuries to keep the knowledge and the intelligence of the people who lived in this land. Theatres, once as today, that are a centre for the communities that never get tired to know and learn. The offer of historical rooms in the province of Belluno is really wide and varied. Spaces that are imbued with splendour and history, able to lead the visitor back to an emotion that echoes with amazement and reverence for the past. Spaces where it's impossible not to be touched by the beauty created by men and by its handicraft ability. Absolutely unique locations where offering to the guests not only the quality of the topic of the seminars or of a master class, but also the experience of a space that tells tales. These solutions are perfect when you wish to complete the information part with the experience of beauty, history and tradition. Positioned in all the territory, some in city background and some perfectly integrated in the surrounding nature, the historical rooms have a wide range of choice that allows you to imagine freely the kind of experience to offer to your guests.

The rooms of the Bembo Palace are in the building with the same name owned by the municipality of Belluno. Built in 1568 by bishop Giulio Contarini to house the Seminary of the Clerics, the Bembo Palace was changed in 1750 by bishop Bembo and kept its purpose as a seminary until 1793, when it was ceded by bishop Alcaini, who converted it in a hospital.

Afterwards, in three different periods, the building was enlarged in the northern part, that today is called Ala Caffi (Caffi Wing). It was used as city hospital until the San Martino hospital was built and, after restoration, was converted in an exposition space. The rooms can be used both for conferences and for exhibitions.

On the spur of the Mount Miesna, that tends to connect to the opposite side of the Mount Tomatico, almost closing the beautiful basin in Feltre, there is the architectural complex of the Sanctuary and Convent of the Saints Martyrs Vittore and Corona, protectors of the ancient city and of the Feltre diocese. The Sanctuary was built “homogeneously and quickly from 1096 to 1101” and was an essential part of the defensive curtain of the Feltre territory towards the Treviso valley. From the hill you overlook all the Feltre area with a 360-degree view: the river Piave, the Grappa Massif, the Mount Avena, the ancient walled town of Feltre and the Vette Feltrine, recognised World Heritage by UNESCO. The ancient cloister and the Sanctuary painting are the evocative testament of the art that meets the sacred.

2700 years of history inside a former church whose antiquity was confirmed by the latest archaeological excavations that revealed remains and stratifications that from the 7th century BC arrive to the present days uninterrupted. The history of this building is incredible: the church, dismissed at the end of the nineteenth century, during the first World War, became a shelter for the equipment and animals of the Austro-Hungarian army, while during the second postwar period it was designated as a parish cinema room. The latest restoration transformed this place in a multi-purpose space suitable for artistic and cultural performances and for meetings.

HOTELS

The province of Belluno is a territory that is historically dedicated to reception and, since the beginning of the 19th century, it has welcomed tourists from all over the world, when Cortina was the reference point of the nobles' Grand Tours and the splendours and transgressions of the Belle Epoque gave a lively touch to the life in the Dolomites. Nowadays, Cortina is still the unquestioned Queen of the Dolomites, with its accommodation facilities and top-quality food, sport events of global acclaim, culture, economy and art great personalities who love walking on paths in height as well as on the shopping streets in the town centre.

But the reception doesn't stop here and exists in all the territory of the province and is often more intimate, including also reception rooms in century-old Sanctuaries. Glossy or surrounded by an air of spirituality and history, these structures are equipped with meeting and conference rooms and, according to the season, give the opportunity to complete the room events with outdoor activities, guided tours or custom-made services. Positioned in all the territory, they will give you the chance to choose among art and culture or adventure and sport, meditation and concentration or taste and Michelin-starred menus.

CONFERENCE ROOMS

Locations that are in the very city centre, comfortable, reassuring, traditional, well-equipped and easy to reach, with the chance to decide the style of your event, choosing among the different backgrounds where these structures are: modern buildings or historic palaces, old cinemas and theatres. The province of Belluno is rich in solutions also for those who are looking for a more conventional space, but it gives unique peculiarities to those who are interested in something unusual, able to amaze, connecting history and nature to leave its mark on the heart. Imagine to invite your guests to attend a training course in a former military hangar that was used during the Cold War, surrounded by the amazing beech forest in the Cansiglio plateau and nowadays perfectly cleared, restored and equipped. Or to be invited for a meeting in a room that overlooks, with its full-wall glass, the beauty of the Santa Croce lake. Or to enjoy a coffee break looking the Misurina lake that reflects the profiles of the Dolomites. Or to get in a cable car reaching the conference room for the meeting, seeing in amazement that it overlooks the beautiful Mount Marmolada at 3000 metres of altitude.

This is Belluno: tradition and discovery, peace and emotions, a wonderful land with thousand of souls, able to give you exactly the feeling you're looking for.

LEGENDA

How to read the leaflet

The structures are divided within three geographical areas of the province of Belluno:

Valbelluna — Alpago — Feltrino
Cortina d'Ampezzo — Cadore — Comelico
Agordino — Fodom — Val di Zoldo

Within each area, the structures are listed firstly basing on their capacity, from the greatest to the smallest, then in alphabetic order.

All the information on this leaflet (opening and closing dates, availability, equipment, etc.) are to be confirmed prior contact with the structure.
